

Message from Editorial Board

Welcome to the Fourth issue of PGLJ! We hope that the first three issue of PGLJ did stand up to your expectations. We will continue to strive and work hard so that PGLJ becomes a resource that you can depend on to keep up with the rapidly evolving field of Pediatric Gastroenterology.

The fourth issue of PGLJ brings you a steady supply of high-quality, peer reviewed papers that are relevant and readable.

The highlight of this issue is Guidelines review of important topic like Hepatitis B and C in children , nutrition in CLD and Autoimmune Pancreatitis

This third issue is has a social edge commentary on Liver Transplantation in India. Liver transplantation we all know is the only therapeutic option to many liver disease in children and should be within the reach of all sections of society .

- Invited Review article this time is to Introduce our readers with Deep Learning and Block chain system in relevance to Pediatric Gastroenterology .
- We have one Case Report where in authors have provided us unique case on Chronic button battery ingestion in a child.
- Section of Journal Watch has two parts. First section dealing with international publications related to different aspects of Pediatric Gastroenterology. The second section incorporates article published by ISPGHAN members in between September 2019 - December 2019. We would request all members to send us information about their publication so that we can continue to incorporate them in future issues.
- ISPGHAN Kaleidoscope: Section deals with activities done under the ISPGHAN banner both at state and national level. We have included awardees and experience from the ISPGHANcon 2019 at Chennai. Apart from that many other activities were conducted throughout the country which has been shared through this section with the rest of the pediatric community.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the reviewers for the effort and expertise that they have contributed to reviewing, without which it would be impossible to maintain the high standards of peer-reviewed journals.

We request you the reader to become an author and share your thoughts and research with the national and international community through this journal. We also request you to pass on the message to Trainees (DMs, FNBs, PDCCs, and Fellowships) for it will be a great place for them to start their academic venture.

As this the last journal by the current editorial board we would like to bid adieu on a positive note. We understand that we may not have done a perfect job and some errors or mistakes might have been committed unknowingly. However our readers have always helped us to improve by giving positive feedback. We hope that the new editorial board of 2020 will take the journal to new heights and achieve what we had dreamt off a year back
