

FROM THE EDITOR IN CHIEF

Welcome to the Tenth issue of PGLJ! With continued efforts of all contributors, reviewer and readers PGLJ has made a place for itself in the academic arena of pediatric gastroenterology worldwide. We will continue to strive and work hard so that PGLJ becomes a resource that you can depend on to keep up with the rapidly evolving field of Pediatric Gastroenterology.

This issue continues with philosophy of change started in the previous issue. We hope that the clinical synopsis section has provided the readers brief yet useful insight into topics . In this issue we have included topics like Management of Corrosive Ingestion, Management of Mettalic Foreign Body and Abdominal Tuberculosis. Covid Vaccination in children is a burning question and we have included a social edge on this aspect . We would request all members to send us information about their publication so that we can continue to incorporate them in future issues. Hope you all will enjoy reading :-)

We request, you the readers to become an author and share your thoughts and research with the national and international community through this journal. We also request you to pass on the message to Trainees (DMs, FNBs, PDCCs, and Fellowships) for it will be a great place for them to start their academic venture. Kindly submit your contribution in MS word only at: pglj.ispghan@gmail.com
